Christopher Lee Appointed Pittsburgh Shareholder-in-Charge

Dickie McCamey announced that Christopher T. Lee, Esq. has been named as the inaugural Shareholder-in-Charge of its Pittsburgh office.

Mr. Lee's appointment to this position will allow Jeffrey T. Wiley, Esq., the firm's Managing Director, the opportunity to dedicate all of his time to firm-wide responsibilities.

"Chris has emerged as an effective leader in all aspects of our home office operations," Mr. Wiley said. "His fulfillment of this role is a welcome by-product of our success."

As the legal climate has become increasingly competitive, Dickie McCamey has experienced organic, positive growth and expanded to 15 offices in nine states. A Los Angeles office was opened last month.

"Our model is, and has been for decades, grounded in collaboration among our lawyers and staff with a singular focus: providing legal services in a manner that is a value added proposition for our clients," Mr. Wiley said. "Every aspect of our practice, from rates, to staffing and the way in which our lawyers are rewarded, is focused on this principle."

Mr. Lee will continue to practice full time as Chair of the firm's Food and Beverage Industry Group. In that capacity, he has served as counsel to some of the nation's largest producers and retailers of food products in a variety of capacities, including the defense of national foodborne illness outbreaks and class actions.
