The Columbus office of Dickie, McCamey & Chilcote is located in downtown Columbus, right across from the Scioto River and steps from the federal and county courthouses. This regional office opened in 2010. The DMC professionals who work there came from various positions and firms to create a unique team of attorneys who practice there today.

The Columbus office is proud to work in the heart of the Midwest, as many of the professionals and staff are from Ohio or were raised and educated in the area. The attorneys at Dickie McCamey Columbus give the personal touch of a small office with the resources and expertise of a large firm. In such a tight-knit community, their good reputation goes a long way.

The Columbus office has experience in:

- Construction Litigation
- Employment Litigation
- Insurance Defense
- Nursing Home Negligence
- Premises Liability Claims
- Railroad Litigation
- Tort Defense
- Transportation Law
- Trucking and Transportation Defense
- Workers' Compensation

Dickie McCamey Columbus has the tools and dedication to reach successful outcomes for whatever issue their clients may bring.
